

Turning point in life

If you want anything in life badly, you will definitely get it one day.

Author is sharing his life experience. During her childhood she visited his brother's university where she determined to become an electrical engineer but everyone was saying to her that she is a girl so she needs to become a doctor, lawyer as a girl's brain is not designed or fit for this.

If someone is saying to you that it is not for you, then that is definitely for you.

After this she cleared the entrance exam for university and came to Moscow with her mother. She joined electrical engineering and was told that ladies are not good in imagination but she proved all of them wrong and did exceptionally well in that.

After that she joined dance class, sports class over there, as she believes that if you work mentally hard then you need to work physically hard also.

After this a huge turn came in her career when she got cancer due to radiation of Chernobyl nuclear disaster. She got surgery, but still her body is not like before and will not function well after surgery.

So she spent all the time at home reading books. In one book it is written that "If you believe you are sick then you are, If you believe you are healthy then you are healthy."

After this she tried to apply this formula and soon she became healthy and came back to her normal lifestyle.

This is called power of attraction. Her belief made her well soon. After this she started learning new languages and got selected for college in US.

Challenges are part of life. If God gives us pain then there is a reason for that, everything happens for a reason. Whatever happens, happens for the best.

You need to value what God has given to you because you don't know what you have until you lose it.

After this she married Sumit. She has a job but still not happy as they don't get time to spend with each other.

After this she got to meet with Amway people. She liked the environment and people.

One day while writing a program of financial analysis. She started analysis business and analysed that it is a profitable business and then she entered in this business.

It does not matter who shows the market plan, it matters who sees the plan.

To make business you need to listen and read books everyday like a food. Try to bring the people in environment so that they can themselves understand this.

Sumit said that he is good in studies and has good job. Most of the time travelling as he is product manager. Living the fast life. And soon started realizing that job may not give him what he wanted in his life. And soon he got call from her wife regarding this business idea. She somehow able to convince me to make this business.

Our business should be build with good posture. Our mind needs to be convinced for everything we want to achieve. You need to have faith otherwise someone else will make his own dream.
